

The Ultimate DNC Scavenger Hunt for AAPIs

Navigating a new city can be overwhelming, so let's make it fun! Follow this scavenger hunt to explore some of our favorite AAPI places in Philadelphia. Once you have identified them all, either send your answers to Melody Lam at melodyzlam@gmail.com or message us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/phlaapi with your responses. You can be featured in our social media!

Furthermore, on the back of this page is a full list of the recommendations of the hosts of the DNC Dim Sum event.

1. First thing's first: where is the official DNC AAPI dim sum event?
2. Looking for some Asian and Asian American Art? This gallery is the place to go.
3. The best soup dumplings are at this garden in Chinatown.
4. If someone told you they were going to this spot for bubble tea (or boba, for some of you), you would have thought its name is spelled "VV."
5. Can fish blow bubbles? That may be a question to be answered in a science class, but for now, go here for some incredible sushi and tea.
6. If you're looking for dinner and karaoke, you can do that at Barbie's on- and off-boyfriend's seafood restaurant.
7. This arch on Arch St is the first authentic Chinese Gate built in America.
8. Come to the only sports bar in Chinatown to catch all the games happening tonight.
9. No other place in Philadelphia makes Korean fried chicken as well as this cafe.
10. This Vietnamese bakery, which is located on Washington Ave and is named after Paris, makes great banh mi.
11. This Chinese restaurant, known for its spicy Szechuan cuisine, is named after a dynasty.
12. Named after a state of Malaysia, come to this restaurant for great Malaysian cuisine.
